

Art class

All four of them love making crafts. Now they decide to fold colored papers into different shapes and animals. Tiger is a good artist and he makes a really cute cat. The others all look at him in surprise and ask him:

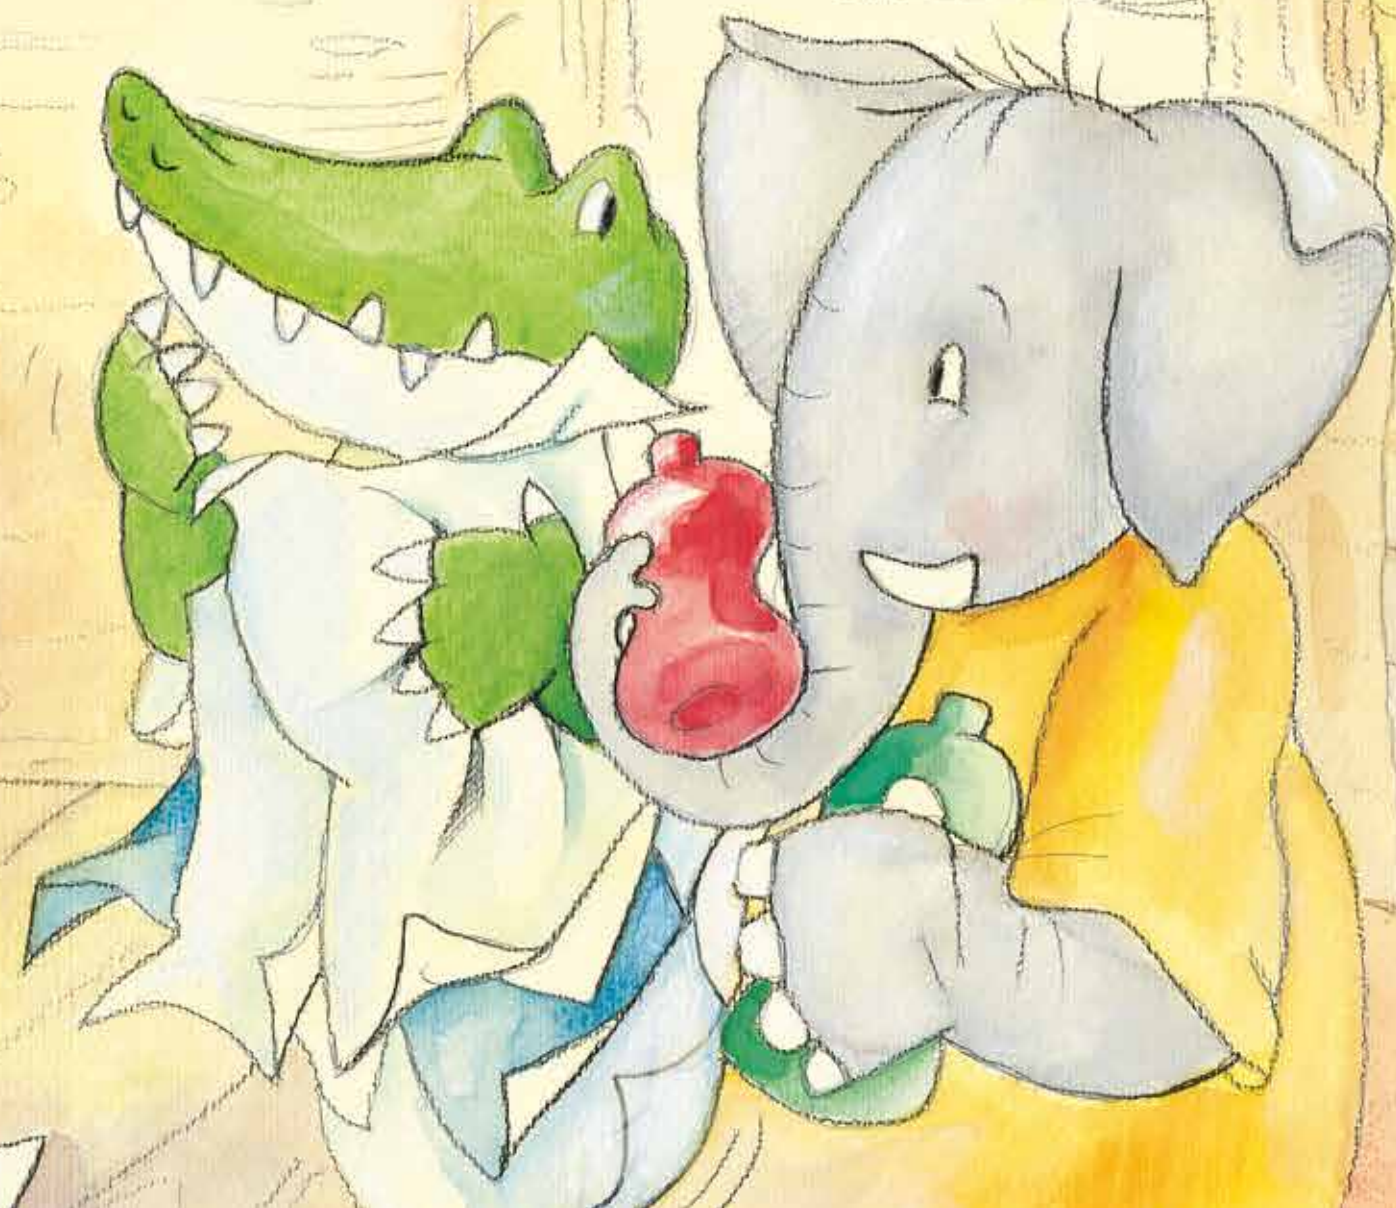

—Tiger, can you please show us how to do that?
—Of course! —their friend tells them.

After their snack, Elephant suggests that they all help clear the table and tidy up all the empty packaging in the kitchen. Without thinking twice, Tiger grabs a big bag and tells his friends to throw everything in so they can get done fast and start playing their game again.

Time to tidy up!

Now they just need to decorate them.

Elephant draws a paper on one crate and Crocodile draws a glass bottle on another one. Orangutan needs to make a few different drawings on his crate but, since he's such a joker, he puts it on his head like a hat. Orangutan, stop playing around! —they all shout.
