

The first time I took him to the dentist, he had the shock of his life.

It's difficult to contradict him, because he always ends up winning.

No other dinosaur had such a large powerful skull. It could reach 3 meters long.

Its binocular vision provided it with a broad field of vision.

Its neck was curved in an S-shape. It was short and muscular, in order to bear the weight of its enormous head.

It could measure 15 meters long and up to 5 meters high. It could weigh up to 8 tons.

It had many different shaped pointed teeth. The largest one found measured 30 centimeters long.

The front limbs were short and had fingers with two claws.

Its tail was long and heavy.

Its back legs were very robust.
