

Just to make sure my eyes weren't playing tricks on me, I ran over to all the bushes and trees to have a better look. And guess what? Not only was the money real, but the small bushes grew one dollar bills, the medium sized trees grew five dollar bills and the really big trees grew twenty dollar bills. Wow!!!

At first it was fun having everything I wanted but then it just got way too hard. Not only did it take me a whole day to find all my bikes, but also it took me another whole day to ride them all and another whole day to put them all away again.

Then at the end of the day, Mom and I sat down to count our money. Mom got one half and I got the other. Then we went to the bank so that I could put my money in a safe place. And guess what? I loved watching the money grow and grow. It helped me to continue working hard.
