

Egg came from a long line of very powerful dragons. His grandad, Ferdinand the Fierce, was famous for making the hottest flames ever.

His dad was Tobias the Tall,
and no dragon had ever got
so close to the sun.
His brothers were all big, bold
and brave, and so was his sister.
His mum had once saved a whole village with one swipe of her tail.

His sister Felicity was fast, super-fast.
Not only could she run fast on the ground, she also flew fast, gracefully
and in total silence.

She could swoop down and give you
a big surprise, as you would never hear her coming.

When he looked at his feet, what he saw made him gasp with shock. His feet no longer looked the same.

They had changed colour. Instead of his dull, pale scales, they were shiny and blue. Glossy and as cold as dry ice. He had to look at twice to believe his eyes.
